Arkansas GOPs May Shelve Favorite Son

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A member of the Arkansas delegation to the Republican National Convention said today that the favorite son nomination of Winthrop Rockefeller will be shelved if it becomes involved in a power play between serious candidates.

Warren Lieblong of Pine Bluff said, however, that he expects the nomination to be made, although most of the delegates will switch their votes to a serious candidate before the first ballot is counted.

A spokesman for the delegation, who asked not to be identified, said the favorite son move would be abandoned if it became apparent that it might hurt Sen. Barry Goldwater, the favorite of a majority of the delegation.

The spokesman said the decision won't be made until the delegation caucuses in San Francisco Sunday.

If it appears that a favorite son nomination might hurt Goldwater, none will be offered, the spokesman said. He added, however, that Goldwater's chances to have the nomination in hand and, unless the picture changes, he would not be endangered by the Arkansas delegation's plans.

As of now Goldwater officially has eight of Arkansas' 12 votes. Lieblong predicted he will get at least 10 and perhaps all 12 when the serious balloting starts.

"We don't want to get mixed up in any maneuvering between serious candidates," Lieblong said. "We don't want to get involved with the pressures that are going to be brought on some delegates."

Delegates Cy Carney of Fayetteville and Guy Newcomb of Osceola plan to stay with Rockefeller on the first ballot and they have not committed themselves beyond that point.

Winthrop Rockefeller, who has been elected chairman of the delegation, and James Grimes of Jonesboro, are uncommitted all the way. Both favored Rockefeller's brother, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, until Nelson withdrew after losing to Goldwater in the California primary.

The delegates have not expressed themselves on a vice presidential choice.

Five of the delegates — Rockefeller, Grimes, Wayne Babbitt of North Little Rock, Mrs. W.L. Jameson of Magnolia and Newcomb — already are in San Francisco.

The others plan to leave Saturday by commercial airlines. Howard Vance of Sedgewick, Mrs. Martha Townsend of Little Rock and Lieblong of Pine Bluff will leave Little Rock with a group of non-delegates who are going as sightseers.

Teamsters to Bare Their Knees

NEW YORK (AP) — Truck drivers in a Teamster union local have won the right to bare their knees to the cooling breeze. But short shorts are banned and socks must reach to the knee.

Steve Milone, president of Local 808, announced settlement Thursday of a dispute that caused a one-day walkout of a Railway Express Agency terminal in Brooklyn on July 2.

The company had said decency required long pants and it sent home five drivers wearing Bermuda shorts. Fifty others walked out.

If You're Not Too Fastidious You Can Still Get a Shave and a Hair Cut for Six Bits

By STEPHENS BROENING
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — You can still get a shave and a haircut for six bits—as long as you're not too fastidious and your nerves are all right.

"Haircuts 50 cents," a sign at the Maryland Barber School promises, "shaves 25 cents."

Inside the school at the end of two long rows of barber chairs here hangs another sign that declares:

All work done by students only.

Almost all. The student who was cutting my hair bore down a bit hard with the clippers and exposed some scalp above and behind my ear.

"Mr. Amico," he implored quietly. Mr. Amico—the barber in residence—scampered over and in a few moments of spirited snipping had repaired the damage, or so he said.

The student continued and neither of us spoke of his mistake.

To qualify for a barber's license a student must complete 900 hours of supervised haircutting and shaving. This is a fact well known by the school's regular customers.

By now my student was far enough along to begin trimming my sideburns with a razor. He did it gingerly.

Even if no one told you that you were being ministered to by a novice, you would know it by a hundred little signs.

My student, for example, asked me to turn my head to the left. A journeyman barber would never do that. He would grip the top of your head like a coconut and give it a twist in

50 FBI Agents to Remain in Mississippi

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today that 50 FBI agents will be permanently assigned to a new office in Mississippi.

Johnson announced the figure at another of his impromptu news conferences, this one held in the Cabinet Room.

The White House said earlier that additional agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation were sent to Mississippi in the wake of the disappearance of three young civil rights workers, but it declined to say how many agents were in the state.

The new FBI Mississippi office is in Jackson, the state capital. It is opening today.

On other topics during the 30-minute session with two dozen reporters, Johnson said:

—He did not care to say whether he agreed with a June 30 statement by Sen. Barry Goldwater, his likely Republican opponent in November, that no GOP candidate could defeat Johnson as of now.

—"I think," said Johnson, "the Republican Party has enough problems already without my adding to them in any way."

—Asked whether support from big city Democratic bosses might give Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy a boost as a potential Democratic vice presidential candidate, Johnson said he would make recommendations for a running mate at the party convention.

Righters to Remain in Mississippi

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., whose son is a civil rights worker in Mississippi this summer, says the student effort to help Negroes there is sure to continue year around. "It's working too well to let it stop."

Edwards, who just returned from a tour of southwestern Mississippi, said there is great concern among students there about what will happen to local Negroes when summer is over and the students leave the state.

He said "it will have to be planned for. We must let it be established that the program is not going to end, that the eyes of the world and of the federal government are on the white people of Mississippi."

Edwards said in an interview Thursday he was "immensely proud" of his son, Leonard, 23, a law student, for going to Mississippi to try to get Negroes registered to vote, but was "terribly concerned" for his safety.

The house at McComb, Miss., in a Negro district in which Edwards and his son slept last Monday night was ripped the following night by three bombs thrown from the street.

"There is a very deep distrust of the FBI among students in the Mississippi project," said Edwards, who was an FBI agent before he joined the Navy in World War II.

"They cannot understand why in the case of the three missing students (at Philadelphia, Miss.) so many hours were spent with the FBI refusing to become involved in a rather obvious kidnapping case."

It was learned Thursday night that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover is considering a trip to Mississippi, where more than 100 agents are searching for the kidnapping case.

39 Killed in Tennessee Airline Crash

By KENNETH CLARK

NEWPORT, Tenn. (AP) — Searchers gathered grim evidence today of death and destruction which followed the crash and burning of a United Air Lines plane near this mountainous east Tennessee town late Thursday. All 39 persons aboard were killed.

Investigators said 70 bags of fragments, including 23 bodies, were removed by midmorning to a special morgue set up in Newport's Municipal Auditorium. National Guard units from nearby Morristown joined civilians in the task.

Federal authorities rushed into the area to seek clues which caused the big airliner to crash in good weather, apparently with little or no warning.

Some witnesses reported they saw the Viscount turbo-prop explode and objects fall from it shortly before dark. The wreckage was scattered over a wide area in the foothills of the Great Smoky Mountains near the North Carolina border.

Searchers found two flight manuals but had been unable to find the plane's automatic flight recorder.

Dr. W. B. Robinson, a Newport physician, remained at the crash scene throughout the night.

"I'm sure we'll find additional bodies when the wreckage has been cleaned up," he said. United asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation to make an inquiry into the nation's worst airline crash since a Pacific Airlines plane crashed east of San Francisco May 7, killing all 44 aboard.

The United flight originated in Philadelphia and was bound for Huntsville, Ala. The plane had stopped in Washington and was due in Knoxville, 40 miles to the south, six minutes after it crashed in a heavily wooded hollow at 6:15 p.m.

The pilot, Capt. Oliver E. Sabatke of Washington, radioed 13 minutes before the crash that he was changing from an instrument to a visual flight plan. There was a 4,000-foot ceiling, 36-mile visibility and scattered clouds.

"I heard a screeching noise, looked up and saw the plane smoking and coming in toward a hill," said Frank Turner, 52, a Cocke county constable.

Mrs. Charles Hawk said she saw the four-engine plane explode and fall into the hollow near her home.

Other witnesses reported seeing objects falling from the plane, according to William Cureton, captain of the Newport emergency and rescue squad.

The plane smashed into the side of a hill known as Trentman Hollow. Bodies, personal effects and wreckage were strewn over a half-square mile area. One engine rolled 150 feet to the bottom of the hill. A wing section was the largest piece of wreckage.

The wreckage still was burning when the first rescue squads arrived.

It was United's first fatal crash since Nov. 23, 1962.

Singing Sunday at City Hall

A special singing convention will be held in the newly air-conditioned auditorium at Hope City Hall on Sunday, July 12, at 1:30 p.m. according to Jesse L. Brown. Among the special groups to appear on the program will be the well-known Lee-White quartet.

Zip in Mails Is Really Fast

CHICAGO (AP) — The zip in the mails these days has letters circling the globe at record breaking speeds.

Take the 57 days it took Harry S. Albin's letter to get across the street.

When John Segal finally received it, he found not just Albin's 5-cent stamp, but four other strange looking stamps besides.

On the back of the envelope was a note: "This letter arrived in Brazil by mistake. Am forwarding it." The stamps were Brazilian.

Albin's printing office are at 1223 S. Wabash. Segal, also, a printer, has offices at 1139 S. Wabash. Albin had included the new ZIP code in the address.

Thunderstorms Lash Sections of Arkansas

Thunderstorms and high winds that lashed Central Arkansas Thursday left some 2,300 persons without electricity to day, utility firms said.

The area underlined two days of high winds—clocked at up to 66 miles an hour a Little Rock Wednesday and at hurricane force, 75 miles per hour, at Hot Springs.

A spokesman for Arkansas Power and Light Co., said today there were 1,000 to 1,500 persons without service in the Little Rock and Scott areas. He said Pine Bluff had 400 to 500 residents without power, Englewood 600 to 700 and Jacksonville 300 to 400.

The First Electric Cooperative at Jacksonville had about 2,000 customers without service during the height of a thunderstorm that raked the area Thursday. Service was restored to all but 30 or 40 Thursday night.

The AP&L spokesman said enough manpower was brought in to restore service to all customers by mid or late afternoon.

He said the system suffered moderate to heavy damage at Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Englewood, Hot Springs, Jacksonville, Arkadelphia, Altheimer, Malvern, Gurdon and Conway.

The interruption of customer service was caused mostly by blown fuses on power lines and transformers, and lines to customers homes, which were knocked down by falling limbs or trees.

Heavy rains and hail accompanied the thunderstorms. Little Rock recorded 1.60 inches during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today. Pine Bluff had 1.93 inches, Arkadelphia 1.60, Hot Springs 2.15, and Mena 1.11.

Thunderstorms and high winds lashed Little Rock for the second day in a row Thursday. The Weather Bureau clocked winds at 66 miles per hour after winds of 55 miles per hour hit the city Wednesday.

Also Wednesday, a storm and winds reaching hurricane force — 75 miles per hour — Whipped through Hot Springs.

None of the storms caused any major damage. No injuries were reported.

Some streets were temporarily flooded by sudden heavy rain and hail at Little Rock Thursday. Considerable minor damage resulted from falling trees, tree limbs and pelting hail.

Wind blew over a temporary wall at the Little Rock Public Library, which is under construction. Some water got into one library area, but damage was minor.

There were reports of two tornadoes—one at Little Rock Air Force Base and one about 10 miles west of Little Rock. The wisers knocked over several utility poles and blew away the tin roof of a building.

And "I look forward wholeheartedly to supporting the document that you draft," he said. "I look forward to running on it. I trust and will always serve this party, in whatever capacities it may assign."

Goldwater Asks Unity, Won't Dictate Planks

By WALTER R. MEARS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, front-running candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said today the party faces "a tough job" in the race against "President Johnson—but added, "This is going to be a Republican year."

"United we will win," Goldwater said in an address prepared for an airport rally on his arrival in San Francisco for the Republican National Convention.

The Arizona senator made the transcontinental trip in a two-engine chartered plane, switching from a commercial airliner at the last minute.

"I expect that all Republicans will leave San Francisco to beat Lyndon B. Johnson and win the presidency of the United States," he said.

Goldwater was quoted Tuesday as saying "as of now" no Republican could beat Johnson. He added in a June 29 interview with the German magazine Der Spiegel, "On Election Day there is going to be another horse race."

"I know that we have a tough job ahead," he said today. "I also know that this is going to be a Republican year all across the country, from statehouse to courthouse and from Congress to the White House."

"I know that you are going to come out of this convention united and fighting—not with each other but with the Johnson administration and its failing foreign policy, its phony fiscal policy and its attempt to spend its way to political power," Goldwater said.

He added that "so-called popularity polls" will not win re-election for Johnson.

"I am here today because of only one thing," Goldwater said. "The support of the people in the Republican party, right at the grass roots, who have honored me with their millions of votes, their millions of man hours, of selfless volunteer work and their personal, abiding dedication to this grand young party of ours."

Goldwater left Washington insisting that "nothing has been decided" about a vice-presidential running mate if he wins the presidential nomination.

By LEWIS GULICK
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Barry Goldwater, the odds-on favorite in the GOP presidential race, called for party unity today and told platform writers he would not dictate what to put in their planks.

Addressing the Republican platform committee at its final hearing, the Arizona senator made scant reference to the specific jobs tossed at his views by his rival, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, before the same group Thursday.

"You must speak for the whole party," Goldwater told the committee in prepared remarks. "You must seek a document that will unite us on principle, not divide us."

"Let the creative differences, even in your own committee, help you build a platform, not tear down the party. Let the vigorous dissents test the applications of our principles, not tear down the principles themselves."

Goldwater went on to expound his philosophy—a free society under constitutionalism at home and strength for freedom and

Martin-Jetton Pledge Vows
The wedding of Miss Janice Marrit Martin and Lester Jetton, was an event of June 27, at 7 in the Sardis Church.
Rev. W. R. Burks of Hope performed the double-ring ceremony before a background of an arch of huckleberry greenery, baskets of white stock and gladiolus.

Nuptial music was provided by Miss Martha May, cousin of the bride, and soloist was Miss Judy Gunter, cousin of the bride, who sang, "O Perfect Love."
Johnny Martin, brother of the bride, and Jerry Jetton, brother of the groom, presided at lighting the candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of white satin. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a crown of pearls. Her bridal bouquet was white butterfly roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.
Maid of honor, Miss Reba Rowe was attired in a pale blue nylon dress with a daisy pom-pom corsage.

Mr. Frank Bearden of Camden, served as best man.
Miss Sheila Mayborn, cousin of the bride, and Linda Darden, cousin of the groom, flower girls wore identical dresses to the maid of honor. The ushers were Phillip Brown of Atlanta, Tex., and Edward Jetton, brother of the groom.

The brides Aunt, Mrs. Nell Gunter of Wilton, Ark., entertained her niece with a reception at the Martin home. Miss Phyllis Martin, sister of the bride, presided at the bride's book. Mrs. Troy Hollis poured the punch and Mrs. Phillip Brown served the wedding cake. Members of the houseparty wore white feathered carnations.

For travel, the bride chose a 2-piece dress suit of lace over pink taffeta with white accessories.
After a wedding trip the couple will be at home in Arkadelphia where the groom is employed.

Some Flags Displayed
Editor of the Star: I made a special trip to the downtown area last Friday and Saturday (July 4 for the purpose of observing how many merchants were displaying our American Flag.

May I commend and express my appreciation for their outward display of patriotism and I'm hopeful another year others will join the following firms which I observed at the time of my inspection: Barlow Hotel, Lagrone Williams, Oakcrest Chapel and Joe's Bakery.

Congratulations, Mrs. Earl O'Neal

"DEAR ABBY"
YOU WERE WRONG—BUT LUCKY!

By Abigail Van Buren
Dear Abby: I took my four-year-old son and five-month-old daughter downtown to pay some bills. I parked on the street in a shady spot and rolled down the window to keep fresh air in the car. Then I placed the baby on the seat so she couldn't roll off and hurt herself. I left the car unlocked, expecting to be gone only five minutes. I was gone about 15. When I got back I saw a woman standing beside my car. When I started to get in, she began to lambaste me. Didn't I know about kidnappers? How dare I leave that baby alone? She also pointed out that I had left the keys in the ignition. When she had her say, her friend showed up with a policeman. They had reported me: I know this might have looked bad but I am a good mother and resent others butting into my business. What is your opinion?

A GOOD MOTHER
Dear Mother: The observant woman did you a favor and the policeman could (and perhaps should) have run you in. Careless care of babies is the public's business, whether you "resent" it or not.

Dear Abby: I went to a doctor and he said I had to lose 65 pounds. How can I do it when I have no will power? I know I can't stay on a diet because I have tried it. I get as hungry as a bear an hour after I eat a meal. If I walk down the street and catch the smell of something cooking somewhere, I go crazy until I stop and buy a candy bar or a bag of peanuts. If I see something to eat advertised on TV I can't forget it until I go and buy some. Today I was real good and didn't eat any sweets or bread, but on my way home I saw a dog chewing on a bone, and I had a terrible urge to take it away from him! I wish they could put me in jail for 30 days and feed me nothing but bread and water. Can you, or anybody, help me?

JOE
Dear Joe: Only you can help yourself. Start over again! Ask your doctor to give you something to discourage your appetite. Then find a picture of a beautifully proportioned man in bathing trunks and tape it on your refrigerator. Once you make up your mind to do it, dieting is a cinch. Good luck.

Dear Abby: Is it abnormal for ber executive committee.

The Scranton planks contrasted pointedly on a number of domestic and foreign affairs statements made by Goldwater, and the executive committee seems certain not to accept them in full.

By JACK BELL
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., vowing vigorous defenses of his international and domestic views, headed for a platform hearing today with fresh indications of a first ballot GOP presidential nomination victory.

Goldwater's reply to a new fusillade of criticism fired at him Thursday by Pennsylvania Gov. William S. Scranton, his badly trailing rival for the nomination, was that he stands just where he has for a long time—for freedom at home and in the world.

"I'm not a Johnny-come-lately," he told a news conference in apparent reference to Scranton's late-starting candidacy.

The Pennsylvania governor's hopes of making a fight out of it for the nomination absorbed a heavy body blow when Gov. James A. Rhodes announced he will recommend at a Monday caucus that the 50 Ohio delegates abandon their commitment to him as a favorite son and vote for the candidate of their choice on the first ballot.

This could be the finishing touch to the hopes of Scranton, who conferred with the Ohio governor, to build any effective stop-Goldwater coalition.

The Arizona senator, who already had proclaimed that he was "more confident than I have ever been" of winning on the first ballot, was expected to pick up at least half of Ohio's vote to add to the 725 credited to him as publicly committed or favorable. He needs only 655 to win the nomination.

One Goldwater strategist, who declined to be named publicly, said the unofficial count of the senator's strength had mounted to 771 votes.

So strong was the belief of most party leaders that Goldwater had the nomination in hand that discussion of his possible vice presidential running mate was the main topic of interest.

She stressed "not being frightened or alarmed at the numerous problems facing the youth of today, but face them squarely and courageously." "There was a time when an eighth grade education was looked upon as a high standard of education, but today, it is just a point of beginning." "To be able to cope with the change, you must be prepared."

Miss Bradley climaxed her address with the following statement: "I have not tried to frighten you, I have simply tried to inform you. We of ourselves are helpless, but with God's help, we can move mountains." Music for the occasion was rendered by the Junior choir of Rising Star and Lonoke Baptist Churches.

A Short Short Story

ORANGE BLOSSOM TIME

By Esther Lacy

My Aunt Dora was 82 when she died a few weeks ago and for the past dozen years I thought she was senile.

When I was a child I remembered Aunt Dora as a stocky and jolly woman, older than my mother, who played the piano and sang and always helped with the dishes. She worked for the government and was at our house so often father used to call her the "star boarder."

This was a joke of course, because he was very fond of her. As I grew up, mother often scolded me for never visiting Dora, who was living and working in a town 50 miles away. Somehow I never had time to do more than write her a card, if I remembered her birthday. But she never forgot mine.

Well, you know how life goes. My folks died and I saw Aunt Dora at the funerals, a gray-haired stranger who told me she was retired and lonely and asked why I didn't come and spend a week end with her? I was about all the family she had, except for a few cousins in California. But I had a job and boyfriends, never seemed to find the time to visit the old lady.

When I married I sent her an invitation, of course, and she sent us a cut-glass pitcher with a note saying she didn't get around very much.

What made me realize the old girl was senile was that twice a year, on my birthday and Christmas, she always sent me a bottle of orange blossom perfume.

Orange blossom! I only use a certain type French perfume and for a time the unopened boxes of orange blossom piled up in my closet. About five years ago I'd forgotten a Christmas gift for the new janitor and, as we were a little short of money, I gave him a package of perfume for his wife, was ashamed to look him in the face. To my astonishment, the following day he told me, "The wife sure appreciates that perfume. You want anything fixed in your apartment, anything at all, just let me know!"

The next Christmas I unloaded boxes of the perfume to mailmen, the elevator operators in my office building, while my husband used them as gifts to his women customers, exhausting my supply. He asked me, "Hon, are you certain orange blossom is really a corny perfume? The women I gave it to seemed happy, promised me plenty of orders."

I told him, "The biddy's have no taste when it comes to perfume."

Every year I'd get a neat parcel post package for my birthday and at Christmas, only to realize I'd forgotten Aunt Dora's birthday or would rush to mail her a belated Christmas card, use the perfumes for minor gifts. I was puzzled at the old lady constantly sending orange blossom, wondered if she had somehow got stuck with a case of the junk.

This Christmas I'd completely forgotten Aunt Dora, nor did I miss her usual perfume package until a week ago, when I received a letter from a lawyer stating that Aunt Dora had passed away in November and it would be to my "advantage" to contact him immediately.

I regret to say that anticipation of my expected inheritance overwhelmed whatever grief I might have felt over Aunt Dora's passing. All I can say to excuse myself is that I hardly knew her; she was old and her death was to be expected. But she had thought well of me and her simple gift of perfume should have been appreciated for the motive that inspired it.

We drove the 50 miles to the little town where Dora had lived, and died. The lawyer, a stuffy old gent in a stiff collar, told me, "As you probably know, your aunt lived on a pension, which stopped upon her death. Her estate consists of a cottage worth about $1,500, after some back land taxes are paid, and $87 in the bank. The cottage was left to three cousins, living in California. The $87 goes to you. Your aunt was a shrewd woman and, well, let me read this part of her will:

"To my niece, Esther, my favorite relative, who always was kind enough to send me a Christmas card; I know she will understand why I am leaving the house to my cousins who never wrote me. It is a token bequest. To save Esther paying inheritance taxes, I have given her all of my modest savings, over $3,000, as she knows, by sending her two bottles of my favorite perfume each year, with a $100 bill wrapped around each bottle."

invitation, of course, and she sent us a cut-glass pitcher with a note saying she didn't get around very much.

What made me realize the old girl was senile was that twice a year, on my birthday and Christmas, she always sent me a bottle of orange blossom perfume.

Orange blossom! I only use a certain type French perfume and for a time the unopened boxes of orange blossom piled up in my closet. About five years ago I'd forgotten a Christmas gift for the new janitor and, as we were a little short of money, I gave him a package of perfume for his wife, was ashamed to look him in the face. To my astonishment, the following day he told me, "The wife sure appreciates that perfume. You want anything fixed in your apartment, anything at all, just let me know!"

The next Christmas I unloaded boxes of the perfume to mailmen, the elevator operators in my office building, while my husband used them as gifts to his women customers, exhausting my supply. He asked me, "Hon, are you certain orange blossom is really a corny perfume? The women I gave it to seemed happy, promised me plenty of orders."

I told him, "The biddy's have no taste when it comes to perfume."

Every year I'd get a neat parcel post package for my birthday and at Christmas, only to realize I'd forgotten Aunt Dora's birthday or would rush to mail her a belated Christmas card, use the perfumes for minor gifts. I was puzzled at the old lady constantly sending orange blossom, wondered if she had somehow got stuck with a case of the junk.

This Christmas I'd completely forgotten Aunt Dora, nor did I miss her usual perfume package until a week ago, when I received a letter from a lawyer stating that Aunt Dora had passed away in November and it would be to my "advantage" to contact him immediately.

Orioles Sweep Twin Bill, Add to Loop Lead

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Bo Belinsky won't get to Hawaii, but he's returned to paradise.

The Los Angeles Angels' controversial left-hander sailed home Thursday night with a two-hit, 3-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox for his first shutout since Aug. 11, 1962.

Less than a month ago, Belinsky was asking Angels' General Manager Fred Haney for a ticket to the beach at Waikiki, where he was stationed last season after a demotion to the minors. Belinsky said the pressure in the majors was too great.

Haney, however, ruled thumbs down on a trip to the land of the hula and suggested Belinsky would do well to let his pitches do the dancing.

Fine, said Belinsky, "but if I'm seen in a night spot, that's my business. No one else's. It's not that I'm not going to take the game seriously. I'm simply going to be loose and relaxed about it."

Since then the 27-year-old southpaw has won three of four starts and compiled an eye-opening 0.86 earned run average. Over-all, he's 7-4 with a 2.68 ERA and headed for his best season since he broke into the majors in 1962 with a 10-11 record, including a no-hitter.

Meanwhile, the Baltimore Orioles boosted their American League lead to 3½ games and added to their amazing record in one-run games by sweeping a two-night doubleheader from Cleveland 4-3 and 2-1. The Orioles are playing .13 ball in one-run games with a 21-2 record in the squeakers.

The other AL games all were decided by one run with the New York Yankees regaining second place by defeating Washington 6-5, Minnesota nipping Kansas City 2-1 and Detroit edging Boston 4-3.

In the National League, first-place Philadelphia downed Cincinnati 4-3, San Francisco belted Chicago's Cubs 9-4, Milwaukee clubbed Pittsburgh 11-6. Houston edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-5 and the New York Mets beat St. Louis 4-3.

Belinsky was touched only for singles, by Rod Hansen in the fifth and Jerry McNertney in the sixth, and did not allow a runner to reach second base. He got the only run needed in the fourth inning when Lou Clinton singled, by Rod Hansen in the fifth and Jerry McNertney in the sixth and did not allow a runner to reach second base. He got the only run needed in the fourth inning when Lou Clinton homered off Gary Peters for the first earned run allowed by White Sox pitchers in 31 innings.

Boog Powell provided all the Orioles' runs in the opener with a pair of two-run homers. Rookie Wally Bunker allowed the Indians only three hits, but two were homers by Leon Wagner and Bob Chance and the 19-year-old right-hander needed Stu Miller's relief help to bring his record to 9-2.

In the nightcap, Bob Johnson's double in the eighth drove in the tying run for the Orioles before rookie Sam Bowens, won it in the ninth with a two-out homer off Sam McDowell.

aDon Lock's three-run homer shoved the Senators into an early lead but the Yankees tied the score in the fifth and put it out of reach with a three-run eighth. Joe Pepitone's bad-hop single with the bases loaded drove in two runs in the rally before Clete Boyer brought home the

Callison Makes Key Plan in Philly Victory

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Callison has an arm, too.

The All-Star hero showed it Thursday night, saving Philadelphia's 4-3 victory over Cincinnati by throwing out the potential tying run at the plate in the seventh inning.

The triumph kept the National League leading Phillies 1½ games in front of second-place San Francisco.

Callison, whose three-run homer in the ninth inning beat the American League All-Stars 7-4 Tuesday, pulled the key defensive play after the Phillies grabbed a 4-2 lead with three runs in the sixth.

Ray Culp should have been out of the seventh unharmed, but Richie Allen's two-base throwing error put Pete Rose at third and Frank Robinson at second with two out. Deron Johnson then laced a single to right field.

Rose scored, and Robinson tried to do the same. Callison, however, fired the ball to catcher Clay Dalrymple, nailing Robinson for the third out.

Callison didn't get a hit as the Phillies resumed their pennant drive following the All-Star break, but he did score the go-ahead run in the sixth. He walked, went to second on Allen's single and came home on Covington's single.

In other National League games, the Giants thumped Chicago 9-4, Milwaukee whipped Pittsburgh 11-6, and New York nipped St. Louis 4-3 and Houston edged Los Angeles 6-5.

In the American, Baltimore swept Cleveland 4-3 and 2-1, New York trimmed Washington 6-5, Los Angeles blanked Chicago 3-0, Minnesota edged Kansas City 2-1 and Detroit nipped Boston 4-3.

After Callison scored in the sixth, Dalrymple singled in the decisive run. The catcher earlier hit a home run. John Tsitouris was the victim of the Phillies' rally, allowing the three-run-scoring singles on first pitches.

John Edwards homered in the fourth off Culp, who evened his record at 6-6 with relief help from Jack Baldschun in the eighth.

The Giants rapped 16 hits, including a solo homer by Willie Mays in the first inning, his 25th, and Willie McCovey's two-run homer in the sixth. Jim Hart had four hits for the Giants.

San Francisco starter Jack Sanford was forced out in the second inning after Chicago batters drove two balls off his right arm.

The Braves gave Warren Spahn nine runs in the first three innings, but the 43-year-old southpaw failed for the 11th time to pitch his first complete game since May 19. Spahn now 6-8, was lifted in the sixth after walking the first two Pirates.

Ed Mathews triggered a five-run first inning and a three-run second with singles and homered in the third. The Braves belted six straight hits before making an out in the first. Bill Mazeroski and Gene Alley homered off Spahn in the fourth.

Frank Thomas hadn't played since May 31 when he came to bat as a pinch hitter with one out and two out in the Mets' ninth. He celebrated his return by hitting a home run off Curt Simmons that wiped out a 3-2 deficit.

The Cardinals had taken the lead in the seventh on Curt Flood's run-scoring single.

Houston also came from behind against the Dodgers, scoring four runs in the ninth. Nellie Fox' two-run single climaxed the rally and deprived Don Drysdale of his 12th victory. Drysdale left in the seventh with a 4-2 lead. However, Bob Miller and Ron Ferranoski could

Last night at K Park in Doctor's League play the Blue Sox clipped the White Sox 10-4.

Rhodes was credited with the win and Brown was the loser. Scott Moore, aided by errors, socked a homer for the losers.

In the second contest the Braves were no match for the Yanks who prevailed 10-0. Bailey was the winning hurler and Pierce the loser. Newton got a single and a triple for the winners.

The final game was a battle for four innings when the Sox sparked by Rowland's double scored two runs. White was the winner and Chance the loser. Chance doubled in the 4th for the Giants only hit. Next week the Giants and Braves meet, the Red Sox and Yanks play. The young teams of the league the Blue Sox and White Sox only play each other.

...A new way to buy gasoline and save up to 3¢ a gallon

5 grades...5 prices...blended in the gas pump

...blended exactly to fit your car

Half of all U. S. car owners buy the wrong grade of gasoline.

Many waste money buying premium octane power their cars can't use. Others risk engine damage by using a regular grade which causes knock and loss of power.

Why is this true? Until now, car owners had to choose between only two or three grades of gasoline—which cannot meet the wide variety of octane requirements of cars on the road today.

But now you can buy Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline in any one of five different octane ratings... at five different prices... one of them exactly right for your car.

Each blend is top-quality Lion gasoline with the exclusive Lionite® additive that prevents pre-ignition knock or ping... keeps spark plugs clean... improves engine breathing by keeping the carburetor clean.

How Lion Octane-Blending works: The special pump draws two separate fuels from two underground tanks, feeding them through a hose-within-a-hose in the exact proportion for your car.

The lower the octane rating your car needs, the more you save... 1¢, 2¢ even 3¢ a gallon! And Lion is the only place you can get it.

Stop in at your Lion Dealer's. He'll help you select the correct blend for your car. Change to Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline, and keep the change!
